

Goldfield Tribune

May 24, 1915

DEMPEY HERE TO MEET SUDENBERG

Both Fighters Will Begin Their Training Tomorrow Afternoon

Jack Dempsey, the husky Pueblo middleweight who will meet Johnny Sudenberg at the Hippodrome next Monday night in a 10 round bout, arrived in camp this morning accompanied by his manager, Jack Gill. Jake Goodfriend, under whose management the card will be held, has the best of assurance that Dempsey is there with the goods and should give the Omaha boy a great battle. Several local men have seen Dempsey in action in his many contests at Reno and all united in the prediction that Johnny had better be "right" when he crawls through the ropes.

Dempsey will begin his training tomorrow afternoon, going through his paces at the Unity club gymnasium at 3 o'clock. He will box with Dick Trounce, a Reno lad who is looking for matches in southern Nevada, and one or two other boxers.

Roy Moore, bantamweight champion of the Pacific coast, who is to meet Jack Bratton at Tonopah June 11, and who already holds the distinction of having tumbled the favorite of Tonopah in the second round of a bout.....was also among the pugnacious individuals to arrive this morning. Moore will probably do the majority of his training in Goldfield.

Sudenberg will go through his work at the Northern gymnasium, working out tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Johnnie is determined to win this fight by a knockout and silence for all time the criticism that he doesn't carry a knockout punch.

DEMPEY HERE TO MEET SUDENBERG

BOTH FIGHTERS WILL BEGIN THEIR TRAINING TOMORROW

Jack Dempsey, the husky Pueblo middleweight who will meet Johnny Sudenberg at the Hippodrome next Monday night in a 10 round bout, arrived in camp this morning accompanied by his manager, Jack Gill. Jake Goodfriend, under whose management the card will be held, has the best of assurance that Dempsey is there with the goods and should give the Omaha boy a great battle. Several local men have seen Dempsey in action in his many contests at Reno and all united in the prediction that Johnny had better be "right" when he crawls through the ropes.

Dempsey will begin his training tomorrow afternoon, going through his paces at the Unity club gymnasium at 3 o'clock. He will box with Dick Trounce, a Reno lad who is looking for matches in southern Nevada, and one or two other boxers.

Roy Moore, bantamweight champion of the Pacific coast, who is to meet Jack Bratton at Tonopah June 11, and who already holds the distinction of having tumbled the favorite of Tonopah in the second round of a bout.....was also among the pugnacious individuals to arrive this morning. Moore will probably do the majority of his training in Goldfield.

Sudenberg will go through his work at the Northern gymnasium, working out tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Johnnie is determined to win this fight by a knockout and silence for all time the criticism that he doesn't carry a knockout punch.

ATLANTA IS IMPROVING

Continued from page 1. The mine on the Nikes camp suspension early under the bed and in connection with the shaft. It was here that the shaft was bored to a depth of 100 feet above which a slope was recently started. The slope is now being advanced on about five feet of 150 feet, but will be widened out as it gains height. The ore body in place here is fifteen feet high.

Excellent progress is being made in rate 1011-A, started 100 feet south of 1010-A on the 1250 foot level. It is now 20 feet on the incline and is getting about 45 feet of 415 ore. When it has attained a vertical height of 50 feet the drift on the vein of the 1640 foot intermediate level will be extended to connect with it and improve the ventilation of the workings.

H. J. HENLEY, JR.
The work on the mine of 2010-1011-A was done on a 1000 foot level. It is now 20 feet on the incline and is getting about 45 feet of 415 ore. When it has attained a vertical height of 50 feet the drift on the vein of the 1640 foot intermediate level will be extended to connect with it and improve the ventilation of the workings.

GERMAN AIRSHIP AND BOMBS THREW BOMBS ON PARIS

By Associated Press. PARIS, May 24. German airships were reported to have thrown bombs on Paris. The French air scouts alleged it to be one of their own machines. Three bombs were dropped. One fell in the Seine close to the Eiffel tower, another on an outbuilding of the Bon Marche store and a third in the Rue St. Charles. The German airplane was driven off by a French machine.

GERMANS ON DEFENSIVE

By Associated Press. BRUSSELS, May 24. The Allies' German air force, after dropping several bombs, have been checked. They have now assumed the defensive, their efforts to force the Allies' planes from the ether having failed.

MINING SECTION

Preliminary matches have been arranged by Manager Goodfriend and will include two bouts, ten and six rounds respectively, Jack Smith of San Diego and Kid Harrison will tangle in the longer bout and the purse will be split just one way, the winner to get the entire sack. Both need the money. Sailor Studley and Speck Duffy will fight six rounds in the curtain raising event.

mine on the Nikes camp suspension early under the bed and in connection with the shaft. It was here that the shaft was bored to a depth of 100 feet above which a slope was recently started. The slope is now being advanced on about five feet of 150 feet, but will be widened out as it gains height. The ore body in place here is fifteen feet high. Excellent progress is being made in rate 1011-A, started 100 feet south of 1010-A on the 1250 foot level. It is now 20 feet on the incline and is getting about 45 feet of 415 ore. When it has attained a vertical height of 50 feet the drift on the vein of the 1640 foot intermediate level will be extended to connect with it and improve the ventilation of the workings.

GOLF FIELD AND THE EAST END OF THE CRIPPLE CREEK

FAST BOXING EVENTS FEATURED ELKS SMOKER

Members of the antlered herd lived up to their reputation of being royal entertainers last night at the Elks smoker held at the Elks home in Victor. The entertainment which consisted of boxing, vocal and instrumental music, was regarded as one of the best staged in the district for months.

From the time Nelson Franklin, the official announcer, mounted the platform to call out the first number of the program until the hour arrived when the janitor's appearance signalled it was "Elks bed time" the spectators thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

There were three boxing events and other athletic fetes in which young men of the district displayed their prowess. McNeely's orchestra dispensed music and a number of renditions were given by a quartet of Cripple Creek and Victor Elks. All who participated in the entertainment were roundly applauded.

In the first boxing event, Victor Crumbly, of Victor, was awarded a decision over Kid McCrumb, of the Irwin Athletic club. This pair were evenly matched and according to the opinion of many, the result should have been a draw. They fought four rounds.

The "barrel" fight in which four boys wearing barrels about their legs indulged in a fistic bombardment was won by Kid Schrontz, of Victor.

Jack Dempsey won by a knockout over Kid Young. Dempsey's right under full head of steam collided with Young's jaw in the third round and the fight ended.

The main event was a scheduled six-round bout between George Bauers, of Goldfield, and Young Morgan, of Victor. Bauers was given the decision in the second round on a foul when Morgan struck him when he was down. Bauers appeared uninjured and agreed to proceed with the fight. In the third round, Bauers called for an armistice when Morgan struck low. Bauers was again declared the victor on a foul.

The boxing events were refereed by Drummond Grant. John Muehlhausen, member of the committee that arranged the affair, was master of ceremonies.

609 Accounts; Amount $39

In Our Savings Department

Which Opened January 17th, 1915

4% and Safety

Protected by Assets in Excess of $90

THE BANK OF VICTOR, COLORADO

RD
The District
AND LADIES
orders that are insur
and Daughter can
L. of Security pay eyes
of Security pay old
Fire Special Depu
Redman, of Victor.

Visit the Valley

FUNERAL OF MRS. DAVIES TODAY

PROMINENT VICTOR
COUPLE WILL WED

People Will Comply
With City's Request for House Numbers

The Big '5'
CALL AND SEE THE SHOW

The Cripple Creek Times and Victor Daily Record, Sunday Morning, May 30, 1915

FAST BOXING EVENTS FEATURED ELKS SMOKER

Members of the antlered herd lived up to their reputation of being royal entertainers last night at the Elks smoker held at the Elks home in Victor. The entertainment which consisted of boxing, vocal and instrumental music, was regarded as one of the best staged in the district for months.

From the time Nelson Franklin, the official announcer, mounted the platform to call out the first number of the program until the hour arrived when the janitor's appearance signalled it was "Elks bed time" the spectators thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

There were three boxing events and other athletic fetes in which young men of the district displayed their prowess. McNeely's orchestra dispensed music and a number of renditions were given by a quartet of Cripple Creek and Victor Elks. All who participated in the entertainment were roundly applauded.

In the first boxing event, Victor Crumbly, of Victor, was awarded a decision over Kid McCrumb, of the Irwin Athletic club. This pair were evenly matched and according to the opinion of many, the result should have been a draw. They fought four rounds.

The "barrel" fight in which four boys wearing barrels about their legs indulged in a fistic bombardment was won by Kid Schrontz, of Victor.

Jack Dempsey won by a knockout over Kid Young. Dempsey's right under full head of steam collided with Young's jaw in the third round and the fight ended.

The main event was a scheduled six-round bout between George Bauers, of Goldfield, and Young Morgan, of Victor. Bauers was given the decision in the second round on a foul when Morgan struck him when he was down. Bauers appeared uninjured and agreed to proceed with the fight. In the third round, Bauers called for an armistice when Morgan struck low. Bauers was again declared the victor on a foul.

The boxing events were refereed by Drummond Grant. John Muehlhausen, member of the committee that arranged the affair, was master of ceremonies.

June 1, 1915

DEMPSEY LOOMS LARGE IN SCRAP

Sudenberg Unable to Make Headway Against Him - Three Draw Fights

For ten rounds last night Jack Dempsey of Pueblo, who looked more like an overgrown school boy than a fighter, and who incidentally proved otherwise, met the lunges of his shorter opponent, Johnny Sudenberg, with a straight left which invariably connected with the latter's visage before Johnny could get inside the Colorado boy's guard for a slam of his own variety.

For the first five rounds, Dempsey displayed his straight left, which he alternated occasionally with a jab from his starboard appendage in a desire to refrain from any in-fighting. He was overlooking his best job, however, when he refused to let the Omaha battler stay in close. He realized his mistake in the sixth round, after finding he could hold Sudenberg ... in the clinches, and opened up with a succession of jolts chops and jabs with his right to Johnny's jaw, which kept the latter's head bobbing during the rest of the fight. Both boys were fighting strong and furiously at the bell, and under the circumstances the best decision that could have been given was the one Referee Arnold made when he called the bout a draw. Neither boy had been hurt to any extent, and although Dempsey landed the cleanest blows, this was offset by the aggressiveness of Sudenberg, who carried the fight to his rangier opponent all through the battle. In Dempsey, who gives promise of developing into a heavyweight, there is

DEMPSEY LOOMS LARGE IN SCRAP

SUDENBERG UNABLE TO MAKE HEADWAY AGAINST HIM— THREE DRAW FIGHTS

For ten rounds last night Jack Dempsey of Pueblo, who looked more like an overgrown school boy than a fighter, and who incidentally proved otherwise, met the lunges of his shorter opponent, Johnny Sudenberg, with a straight left which invariably connected with the latter's visage before Johnny could get inside the Colorado boy's guard for a slam of his own variety.

For the first five rounds Dempsey displayed his straight left, which he alternated occasionally with a jab from his starboard appendage in a desire to refrain from any in-fighting. He was overlooking his best job, however, when he refused to let the Omaha battler stay in close. He realized his mistake in the sixth round, after finding he could hold Sudenberg safe in the clinches, and opened up with a succession of jolts, chops and jabs with his right to Johnny's jaw, which kept the latter's head bobbing during the rest of the fight. Both boys were fighting strong and furiously at the bell, and under the circumstances the best decision that could have been given was the one Referee Arnold made when he called the bout a draw. Neither boy had been hurt to any extent, and although Dempsey landed the cleanest blows, this was offset by the aggressiveness of Sudenberg, who carried the fight to his rangier opponent all through the battle. In Dempsey, who gives promise of developing into a heavyweight, there is room for a world of improvement, and with the experience he will gain during the next few years he should make a formidable opponent for any scrapper.

The fight between Smith and Harrison, from the standpoint of actual fighting of the give and take order, was the best scrap of the evening. Harrison showed up to better advantage against Smith than he has in any of his bouts for months. Referee Arnold called the bout a draw, and while the decision was not in accordance with the views of many in the crowd who thought that Smith had a shade the best of the battle on points, it was the most satisfactory verdict that could have been rendered, as neither had any decided lead.

Speck Duffy and Sailor Studley staged their expected tango dance of four rounds. The bout was called a draw. Duffy couldn't hit Studley, although he swung a few from his shoe tops flush on Speck's jaw.

All of the battles were handled by Referee Arnold, who did not allow any holding, but kept the fighters working all the time. The customary clinches which have been wished on the fans in the past did not materialize last night, for Arnold kept the scrappers separated all the way.

room for a world of improvement and with the experience he will gain during the next few years he should make a formidable opponent for any scrapper.

The fight between Smith and Harrison, from the standpoint of actual fighting of the give and take order, was the best scrap of the evening. Harrison showed up to better advantage against Smith than he has in any of his fights for months. Referee Arnold called the bout a draw, and while the decision was not in accordance with the views of many in the crowd who thought that Smith had a shade the best of the battle on points, it was the most satisfactory verdict that could have been rendered, as neither had any decided lead.

Speck Duffy and Sailor Studley staged their expected tango dance of four rounds. The bout was called a draw. Duffy couldn't hit Studley, although he swung a few from his shoe tops flush on Speck's jaw.

All of the battles were handled by Referee Arnold, who did not allow any holding, but kept the fighters working all the time. The customary clinches which have been wished on the fans in the past did not materialize last night, for Arnold kept the scrappers separated all the way.